

Sparsh wins the prestigious EFY Reader's Choice 2009 Award for Best Security System

Press Release : NOIDA, UP, December 17th, 2009

Sparsh has been awarded the prestigious EFY (Electronics For You Magazine) Reader's Choice 2009 Award for Best Security System. This award is given to the most popular brand of the year as voted by the readers of EFY magazine. Companies competing for the coveted award included Godrej, Zicom, Alba Systems, Bosch, and Sparsh. Previous year winners include Honeywell, Alba, Sony and Zicom. Previously, Sparsh had been nominated for this award in 2005, 2007, and 2008.

“This is a great honour for us and we are thankful to our customers, partners, and the industry for their support and encouragement”, says Sanjeev Sehgal, Founder & MD of Samriddhi Automations. “Our mission is to make India a recognized leader in the design and manufacture of innovative and high quality security devices. In our pursuit towards this mission, this year we have obtained RoHS, CE, EMC, and FCC certifications for our various product lines. This award recognizes our team’s hard work over the years and provides the right motivation for reaching our mission”

Some of our 2009 achievements that have contributed to this award include indigenous development of mid-resolution 480 TVL and hi-resolution 540 TVL cameras, expanding range of offered cameras to 70, and launch of OmniSurv- enabling real-time video surveillance anytime, anywhere including low-bandwidth mobile networks like GPRS. In addition, this year Sparsh became the first Indian security firm to achieve CE, FCC, TUV EMC and RoHS certification for security cameras. This will enable us to expand our market reach beyond India and serve global markets as well.

For more information about Sparsh and our services,
please visit our website:

<http://www.sparshsecuritech.com>